

MM5 model simulation result on the crash of China Airlines' flight CI 676 in 1998

KENNY HUANG

Civil Aeronautics Administration

The simulation result revealed that the vertical wind shear with tail wind along the runway appeared for a short duration at that time. The unfavorable environment accompanied other factors fatally. The inevitable air tragedy occurred and 202 people were killed.