

Regional Characteristics of Building Damage and Reconstruction Condition in Sri Lanka due to 2004 Sumatra Tsunami

OSAMU MURAO¹, HIDEAKI NAKAZATO¹

¹*Faculty of Systems and Information Engineering, University of Tsukuba*

²*Graduate School of Systems and Information Engineering, University of Tsukuba*

On the 26th of December 2004, tidal waves struck the coastal areas in Sri Lanka as well as other Indian Ocean rim countries. The Tsunami damaged to five provinces in Sri Lanka and more than forty thousand people were displaced and disappeared or killed within a short time. Urban Development Authority (UDA) announced