

President's Message
Atsuhiro Nishida

Asia Oceania Geosciences Society (AOGS) was founded to promote scientific research on the Earth and Planets in Asia and Oceania. The science of the Earth and Planets is a very broad discipline that addresses Atmosphere, Ocean, River, Earthquake, Volcano, and Space. It has important implications to protection of our environment and mitigation of natural disasters, so that its research efforts involve not only the academics but also governments and industries all over Asia and Oceania.

Having hosted its Scientific Assemblies annually since 2004 where several hundred to about one thousand scientists have attended, AOGS is now well established. An AOGS Assembly has become an ideal forum for addressing to and interacting with geoscientists from all over Asia and Oceania as well as those from U.S. and Europe. The Exhibition is viewed by influential scientists from several tens of countries.

The fourth Assembly in Bangkok is going to highlight geoscience activities in Thailand with the support of the Local Advisory Committee chaired by Prof. Piamsak Menasveta, Dean of the Faculty of Science, Chulalongkorn University. We invite participation of scientists, government officers, and industries to lectures and exhibitions at this first AOGS assembly ever held outside Singapore.

Local Advisory Committee Chairman's Message
Professor Piamsak Menasveta
*Faculty of Science,
Chulalongkorn University
Bangkok, Thailand*

We are pleased to work with Asia Oceania Geosciences Society (AOGS) in organizing the fourth assembly in Bangkok. Thailand gives high priority to earth system science. Our economy and the well being of people depend on the better understanding of this vast field of studies. We are confident that AOGS in Bangkok will prove to be effective in providing a ground for participants to exchange knowledge and perspectives for the common goals of geosciences, which will ultimately lead to better understanding, sustainable utilization of geo-resources, as well as harmonious and coexistence between man and nature. Here by we cordially invite you to attend AOGS 2007 in Bangkok.

Some of the world's most active geoscientists shall Convene once again for five days from 30 July to 4 August 2007. Geoscientific resources & research across the globe will synergize in the Queen Sirikit National Convention Center at the center of Bangkok.

CONVENTION VENUE

Thailand's premier venue for international meetings, conferences, & exhibitions – The Queen Sirikit National Convention Center (QSNCC) is a highly sophisticated multi-purpose facility designed to meet the demands of international conventions & exhibitions of today. In case you are wondering, QSNCC was named after Her Majesty, Queen Sirikit of Thailand to honor Her Majesty's 60th birthday (August 1992) & marking her completion of an auspicious fifth twelve-year cycle.

Sitting in the central business district of Bangkok with easy access to the finest hotels in the city, the QSNCC is on Rachadapisek Road, an arterial road running north-south between two of the city's main east-west thoroughfares - Sukhumvit Road and Rama IV Road. There is also a subway station (Queen Sirikit National Convention Center Station; Bangkok Metro) right at its doorstep.

QSNCC offers a full range of support services to service you from F&B needs (including a full-service international restaurant, the Retro Live Cafe, a coffee shop, western and Asian fast food areas and banquet facilities for over 8,000) to pharmaceutical, postage & banking needs.

METHODS OF PARTICIPATION

- Submit your Session Proposal now at <http://www.asiaoceania.org/aogs2007> by 16th October 2006 & be a session convener
- Submit your Abstract (10th November 2006 – 15th March 2007) & be a research presenter (Note: A SGD32/USD22) processing fee is payable for EACH paper at the time of submission. Only camera-ready papers in PDF format with print quality resolution will be accepted. Style files provided on the website must be strictly adhered to as well.
- Register to attend AOGS2007 as an industrial participant (Only for non paper writers/presenters)
- Select an AOGS2007 sponsorship package & be a financial supporter of scientific research on Earth and Planets, in Asia and Oceania

AOGS 2007 REGISTRATION FEE WAIVER SCHEME

AOGS, as a society that promotes all facets of Geosciences research, would love to extend a helping hand for all financially-challenged academics who are interested to share their research to fellow geoscientists. Apply for the fee waiver & submit your abstract before 15th February 2007. You will be notified of your application status by 26th March 2007. Go to AOGS2007 Website through <http://www.asiaoceania.org> to find out more.

AOGS SPONSORSHIP PACKAGES

Your financial support will bring 1000 geoscientists focusing &/or from Thailand, Asia and Oceania to gather in the dynamic city of Bangkok from 30 July – 4 August 2007.

This is not only a good deed to support research to further protect our environment & mitigate natural disasters. It would provide the opportunity to market & exhibit, not only your research, products & services, but most importantly, the credibility & standing of your company or institution in this industry & region. Maximise the opportunities from the exhibition & networking receptions.

Sponsors are also encouraged to provide special rates or benefits for the 2000 members of AOGS so as to support the great cause of geoscientific research. But of course, any in-kind contributions are very much welcomed to assist AOGS in organizing more quality in-depth scientific assemblies in other areas of Asia Oceania.

SPONSORSHIP PACKAGES

A) Exhibition Booth (SGD 3,500/USD2, 350)

- Standard booth size: 3m wide by 3m deep
- Standard booth construction
- Fascia board with exhibitor name and stand number
