

AOGS2007: E-News 5: January 2007

In Asia, For Asia And The World

AOGS2007 Latest Updates

1. 4th AOGS Scientific Sessions

One hundred and three sessions have been accepted for the 4th AOGS meeting this year. The breakdown according to the Sections is shown in the below weblink. A few more sessions are still being reviewed and are expected to be added shortly.

For the list of sessions, their descriptions, organizers and to submit your papers, please visit: <http://www.asiaoceania.org/aogs2007/sessionschedule.asp>

2. Meeting of the Local Advisory Committee at Bangkok

The Local Advisory Committee (LAC) for the fourth AOCG meeting met on November 22, 2006, at the Chulalongkorn University. This LAC has been formed to collaborate with AOCG by advising on the presentation of the Thai geosciences activity in the program and on the solicitation of support by government and private sector in Thailand. It is chaired by Prof. Piamsak Menasveta, Dean of the Faculty of Science, Chulalongkorn University. The meeting was attended by 28 people who were from universities, governmental institutions, and industries.

After a brief introduction ... Click here to read full article

3. Site of the 5th AOGS meeting

On December 7, 2006, A. Nishida (President) and W. Ip (Vice President) visited BEXCO, the meeting convention centre in Busan, Korea. C.-H. Khoo of Meet Matt accompanied. It is a spacious and modern facility and well qualified to meet the requirement of our AOGS meeting. Consequently, a letter of intent was signed so as to secure the 16 meeting rooms and the grand ballroom, in choice locations within the convention centre for the interval of 16 - 20 June 2008.

For Further Information:

AOGS Secretariat – Meeting Matters International

No. 73 Tras Street, #04-01

Singapore 079012

Tel: (65) 6221 2310 Fax: (65) 6221 2760

Email: secretariat@asiaoceania.org