

SAKU TSUNETA

Saku Tsuneta is a Professor of the National Astronomical Observatory of Japan (NAOJ) with research interest in space instrumentation and solar physics from space. He is the Director of the Hinode Science Center of NAOJ, and Director of the Advanced Technology Center of NAOJ. He is Principal Investigator for Solar Optical Telescope aboard Hinode and co-manager for the Solar-B mission. He took his PhD in astronomy in 1983 at the University of Tokyo.