

Bruce D. MALAMUD
King's College London

Bruce D. Malamud (PhD) is Professor of Natural & Environmental Hazards at King's College London, United Kingdom. Bruce was President for four years (2007–11) of the Natural Hazards Division of the European Geosciences Union (EGU) and Programme Committee Chair for the EGU General Assembly 2010 & 2011. Bruce is currently executive editor of Natural Hazards & Earth System Sciences. He has been PI or Co-I on 12 grants (£2.5M to King's) and has authorship on >60 peer-review publications, including 1st author publications in Earth & Planetary Sci. Letters, Earth Surface Proc. & Landforms, J. of Geophysical Research, PNAS, and Science. His research includes landslides, earthquakes, floods, wildfires and multi-hazard interactions. Research subthemes include time series analyses, mathematical models, visualization, complexity, confronting models with data, and communications of science to user groups.